Continuation of Attachment(s) 3. Information Disclosure Statements (PTO/SB/08), Paper No./Mail Date: 8 June 2009, 22 July 2009.

REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: the claims in the instant application have not been rejected using prior art because no references, or reasonable combination thereof, could be found which disclose, or suggest, an apparatus for replacing a spinal disc as claimed in claim 1, and specifically, (a) the outer surfaces of the first and second retaining members directly engaging vertebrae after the artificial disc is in position between the vertebrae, (b) the outer surface of the guide extends outwardly from the outer surface of the first retaining member, and (c) the guide engaging a surface of the first vertebra after the artificial disc is in position between the vertebrae. Regarding Ross et al. (US 2003/0187506 A1), the outer surfaces of the first and second retaining members (22, 24) cannot directly engage the vertebrae after the artificial disc is in position between the vertebrae (see Fig. 3B on page 8 of the 24 March 2009 Office Action). Regarding Fraser et al. (US 7,060,097 B2), because the outer surfaces of the first and second retaining members now must be able to directly engage the vertebrae after the artificial disc is in position, the portion of channel (240) identified as part of the outer surface (see Fig. 7B on page 11 of the 24 March 2009 Office Action) can no longer be part of the outer surface. Thus, the portion of channel (240) identified as the guide (see Fig. 7B on page 11 of the 24 March 2009 Office Action) can no longer be the guide as the outer surface of the guide must extend outwardly from the outer surface of the first retaining member (instead, the guide extends inwardly from the outer surface, which now does not include a portion of the channel (240)) and must be able to engage a surface of the vertebra after the artificial disc is in position.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
